

Getting to FGGM & NSA Gates

NSA Main, Mapes, Reese & Rockenbach Gates, NSA Shuttle,
NSA Main Campus & National Business Park

As easy as 1-2-3

When you are traveling to FGGM/NSA from the Baltimore and Washington Metropolitan areas, there are a number of options that you can consider. Use these simple steps:

1 - PLAN YOUR TRIP

Whether you are walking or driving to a transit option, first identify where the transit station is and how you want to get there. There are numerous Park and Ride lots throughout the region. See our map for the locations of Park and Ride lots and which one is best for you at www.ftmeadealliance.org.

2 - PICK YOUR MODE OF TRANSIT

Options available to you include: MARC Commuter Rail (Penn Line to Odenton Station or Camden Line to Savage Station); Virginia Rail Express (including free MARC transfer to the Odenton or Savage MARC Station); or Baltimore Central Light Rail (with a transfer to LINK Shuttle to get to the Post). METRO's closest stations are Greenbelt and New Carrollton. Note: Commuter bus service from the Shady Grove Metro Station in Montgomery County and possible commuter buses from Northern Virginia and Southern Maryland are under development.

3 - ACCESS THE POST

Most of the travel options to the Post require a shuttle option from a transit station onto the Post. NSA shuttle and a local bus provider CMRT (F & K Routes) both provide service and details that can be found by contacting the agencies directly. Additionally, both FGGM and NSA have coordinators that you should contact to determine the transportation or rideshare option for you.
